Bluffton's Police National Night Out

The Bluffton Police Department invites the Bluffton and surrounding communities to its annual National Night Out event, happening Tuesday, October 1, 2019 at Eagle's Field in Bluffton from 5 p.m. – 8 p.m.

National Night Out is an annual unique crime/drug prevention, community-building campaign that promotes law enforcement-community partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie to make Bluffton a safer, better place to live.

The event is free with free food, safety demonstrations from the Bluffton Township Fire District, and education from local businesses and organizations. There is also ample free parking available at Eagle's Field where police will direct you where to go.

"This event enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community and provides a great opportunity to bring police and neighbors together under positive circumstances," said Bluffton Police Chief Chris Chapmond.

The Department has several sponsors so far to help cover costs of the event. If your business is interested in being a sponsor, contact Joy Nelson at jnelson@townofbluffton.com.
