Bluffton's Deputy Town Manager Scott Marshall Selected for Government Leadership Institute

Bluffton's Deputy Town Manager Scott Marshall has been selected to participate in the 2019 International City/County Management Association (ICMA) Gettysburg Leadership Institute held in mid-May.

Marshall will be one of no more than 30 senior ICMA-credentialed government managers chosen to engage in a unique opportunity to join colleagues in an exploration of personal leadership, organizational effectiveness, and the lessons of history. The leadership lessons on the Battle of Gettysburg, the leadership styles of those in command as well as those on the battlefield, and the aftermath of disaster recovery of the town of Gettysburg after the battle in 1863 form the core of this site-specific leadership institute offered in conjunction with the Gettysburg Foundation.

"Scott's selection for the Gettysburg Leadership Institute is a clear testament to being recognized as a leader in our profession," Bluffton Town Manager Marc Orlando said. "This is an incredible opportunity for him and the lessons learned at the institute will benefit the entire town staff as well."
